

FGC is compelled by the power of your voice and images to tell vast, branching stories about the community. Our hope is that, through your willing participation with members of FCGF, alongside people in and surrounding the Green Bay area, we can help grow a greater understanding of the trails and benefits of community gardening.

FGC primary concern in its research is towards your safety and consenting participation. Its main source of guidance coming out of the Belmont Report: Respect for persons, beneficence, and justice. The FCG values your rights regarding to any words or pictures you feel willing to share. Furthermore, not threats or non consenting participation will be forced upon you. Should any additional personal security or assurances be required, FCG is willing to communicate and cooperate.

Should you wish to remove or retract any statement or images shared with FCG, those materials will be removed upon request. Should you no longer wish to be represented on Friends of the Community Gardens social media please contact (#####)
